

Faculty Position—Medical Humanities

The Institute for the Medical Humanities (IMH) at the University of Texas Medical Branch at Galveston (UTMB) invites applications for a tenure-track faculty position, with rank negotiable based on experience. The successful candidate will join a multidisciplinary faculty in ethics, philosophy, history, law, policy, literature, religious studies, and visual studies who engage in research and teaching of medical students, trainees, and graduate students in the medical humanities as well as in the biomedical sciences. The IMH also offers an ethics consultation service in the university's hospitals. The IMH is home of the nation's only Ph.D. program in medical humanities.

Candidates should have a Ph.D. or other doctoral degree in a humanities discipline or in the medical humanities. Candidates must have a demonstrated ability to teach as well as a publication record commensurate with years of experience. A background in religious studies and ethics, potential to secure external grant funding, and the ability to engage in clinical ethics consultation are all highly desirable. Candidates from underrepresented minority backgrounds are encouraged to apply.

Please apply online at <http://www.utmb.edu/hcm/>. Job Opening ID 11709. Applications will be accepted until the position is filled. UTMB is an equal opportunity, affirmative action institution which proudly values diversity. Applicants of all backgrounds are encouraged to apply.
